

Our Community

One that bridges diverse cultures, countries and sectors to be a role model for a unified, involved community

“Best” – the wall

- Integrate cultures to celebrate diversity – using our city as a melting pot of culture we can integrate and solve problems
- Diversity of ideas and people has galvanized us into a community
- Volunteering leaders of the world – time, resources, value
- Bridge campus/community, border, business/nonprofit
- Cross border educational programs to increase community unity and Involvement
- Expand culture of mutual support
- Teach (remind) the choir how to sing “Other people share my ideas, struggles, fears and love.”
- Change slogan from “America’s finest city” to “America’s environmental leader”
- Create convergence zones: public parks, coffee shops, Starbucks sponsored idea exchange

“rest” – the tables

- Public design spaces to allow people to meet
- Creating events for everyone to connect
- Cafes, coffee houses
- Community gardens
- Connect churches
- Network among food growers
- Strong community
- No boundaries
- Service to others; volunteers-everybody does it
- Social innovation clubs
- Training the youth; education
- Creating avenues to give/get involved
- Technologies – Skype, Facebook
- Facebook penpals – among high schoolers across districts
- TED
- Rebrand San Diego “the sustainable city”
- Massively distributed collaboration
- Freedom to seek creative expression
- Conscientious human beings
- Organic fresh and local
- Engaging youth
- Educated people who take care of themselves and their community
